

Harrison Street appoints new director for investor relations team

By Daniel McGrath | Mon 25 April 2022

Mina Kojuri has been appointed as Harrison Street's new director for the company's investor relations team in London.

Kojuri will report to Harrison Street's managing director Albert Yang and will be responsible for capital raising activities and promoting the firm's global strategies to institutional investors predominantly located in Europe.

She joins bringing over a decade's worth of experience in real estate and investment management, having most recently served as director in investor relations at AEW, where she promoted the firm's global strategies to European investors.

Kojuri also holds a master's in business analytics and consulting from the University of Warwick, a Bachelor's in international management from EBC Berlin, Germany and is a member of the European board of directors of women in real estate (WIRE).

Christopher Merrill, Harrison Street's co-founder, chairman and chief executive said: "We are thrilled to welcome Mina to Harrison Street's Investor Relations team and growing global platform. Her deep relationships with European institutional investors will be valuable as we further expand our client service capabilities and strive to best meet the increasing needs of our global investor base."